RAYCA

BRANDING

PRINTED MEDIA

Rayca, a moving company, approached me for a brochure design project but I convinced them to undergo a comprehensive rebranding journey. The result was a captivating brochure and a rejuvenated brand identity that positioned them as a forward-thinking leader in the industry.

As an Executive Designer at APPTUTTI, I led various design initiatives, including website redesign, UI/UX projects, localization efforts, social media design, and marketing assets. These efforts contributed to the success of overseas mobile app and game developers entering the Chinese market by providing a strong online presence, user-friendly interfaces, engaging social media content, and effective marketing materials. This role empowered developers to thrive in the dynamic Chinese market, bridging cultural and market gaps through design.

"In my role, I provided creative direction for TUTTI Club, an APP store initiative developed by APPTUTTI. This project aimed to not only promote our own mobile games but also provide a platform for other mobile games and apps to connect with the vibrant gaming community in China. I was responsible for defining the branding, conceptualizing ideas, creating sketches, and shaping the UI/UX to ensure a seamless and engaging experience for gamers."

Ample Solutions, a prominent electronic component distributor with a global presence across Asia, serves diverse industry segments. As a Freelance Graphic Designer, I contributed to their marketing resources, enhancing their visual branding and supporting their position as an industry leader.

Quality Control & Assurance System

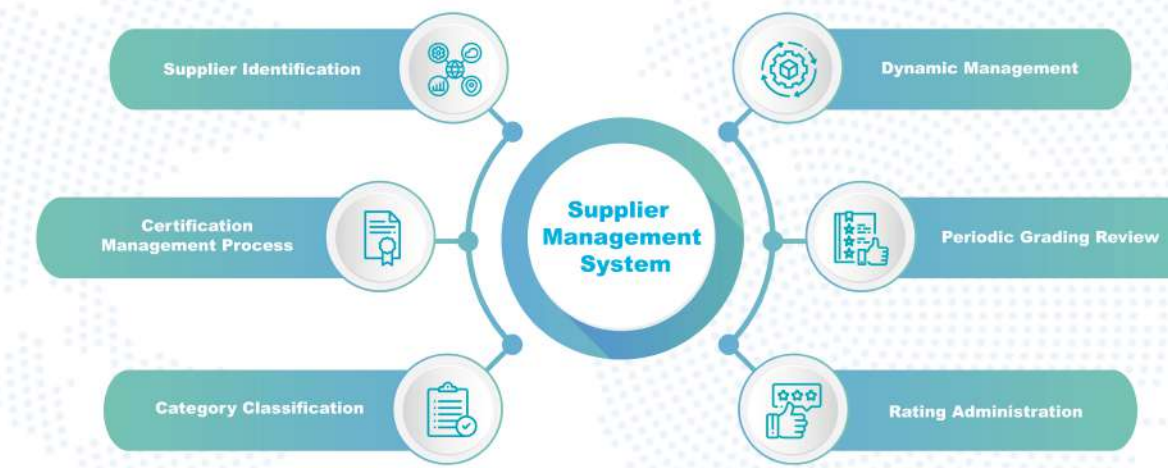

Quality is at the heart of everything we do at Ample. We have established two World-Class Quality Assurance(QA) Centres, separately in Shenzhen and Hong Kong. With a combined space of 1,000m² and 20 inspection workstations, Ample's QA centres operate in parallel to cater to our multi-layer testing and inspection processes.

We continue to surpass these standards by implementing a stringent four-tier quality inspection process to ensure every piece of component we distribute is of top quality.

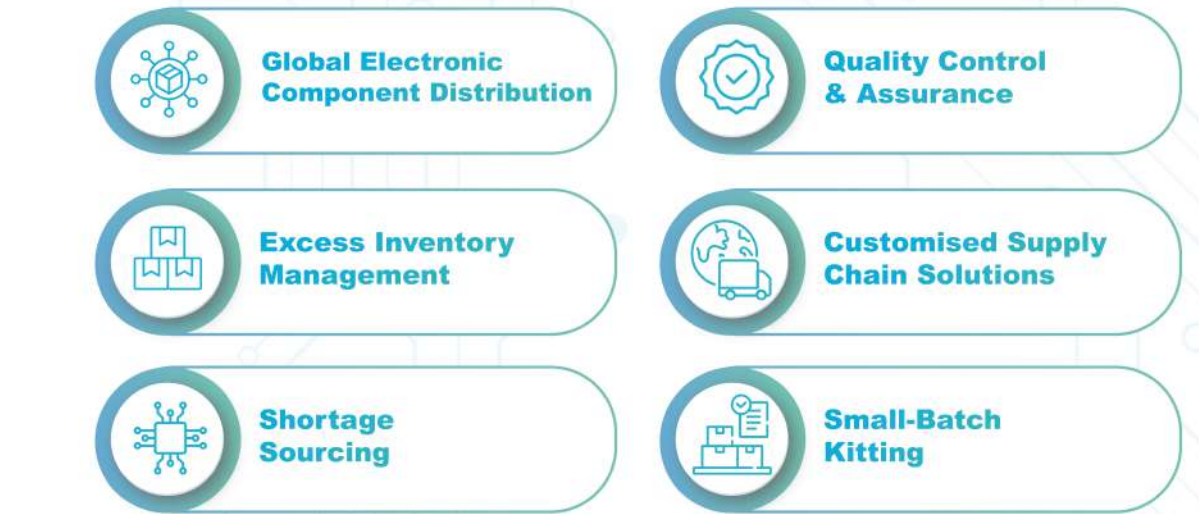

Ample Supplier Management System

With over 4,000 electronic component global suppliers as our partners, it is crucial to effectively track and evaluate our suppliers' performance, safeguarding our clients' interests. Ample has built a strict and systematic Supplier Evaluation System (SES) to mitigate supply chain risks and achieve our integrated, continuous and sustainable management goal.
